- i) Monitoring the flow of work, employee productivity and better organisation of the Bank's work and reducing labour costs.

5. Who has access to your personal data?

- a) The Management of the Bank and / or its authorised employees to the extent required for the fulfillment of the Bank's obligations towards you.
- b) Affiliated organisations and data processors acting on behalf of the Bank, including, but not limited to, accountancy service providers, educational service providers, financial institutions, IT support companies, other consultancy service providers, as well as the companies of the Bank Group, subject to the confidentiality and privacy of your data.
- c) Tax authorities, social security organisations and any other agency of the State, where there is a relevant statutory provision.
- d) Attorneys-at-law, bailiffs, notaries, judicial authorities and public prosecutors, public services and government organisations and third parties, if necessary for the operation of the contract, the fulfillment of the Bank's statutory or contractual obligations or its rights and the defense of its interests, or where this is required by legislative provisions or judicial decisions or regulatory decisions of the Personal Data Protection Authority or other independent authorities.

6. For how long does the Bank keep your personal data?

In the absence of a contract of employment with the Bank, your data will be retained for a period of twenty-four (24) months from the rejection of the relevant application.

If a contract of employment with the Bank is concluded, your data will be retained if you leave due to retirement, up to the general statutory limitation period of the claims, i.e. for up to twenty (20) years from the expiry of the relevant contract; in case of your retirement before the full retirement conditions are fulfilled, for a period of thirty-five (35) years, in order for the Bank to be able to respond effectively to your claims on the establishment of your pension rights, unless by special arrangement by legislation or by the competent authority decision or recommendation this time is determined as shorter or longer.

If, by the expiration of the above periods, legal proceedings are under way with the Bank or any affiliated company thereof, directly or indirectly concerning you, the retention period is extended until an irrevocable court order is issued.

After the lapse of the above periods, your personal data will be destroyed.

7. What rights do you have to protect your personal data?

You have the following rights:

- a) To know what personal data we keep and process, their origin, purposes of their processing, and the time they are retained (right of access).
- b) To request the correction and / or completion of your personal data so that it is complete and accurate (right of rectification). You will need to produce any necessary documents that may indicate the need for correction or completion.
- c) To request the limitation of your data processing (right of restriction).
- d) To refuse and / or oppose any further processing of your personal data we retain (right of appeal).
- e) To request the transfer of your personal data to any other processor of your choice (right to data portability).
- f) To request the deletion of your personal data from the files we hold (right to erasure).

In relation to the exercise of your rights, note the following:

✓The Bank may in any case have the right to refuse the satisfaction of your request to restrict the processing or deletion of your personal data if the processing or retention of the data is necessary for the operation of the employment contract as well as for the establishment, exercise or support of its legal rights or the fulfillment of its obligations.

✓Exercising the right to portability does not entail the deletion of your data from our records, which is subject to the terms of the immediately preceding paragraph.

✓The exercise of these rights acts for the future and does not concern data processing already carried out.

g) To submit a complaint to the Personal Data Protection Authority (www.dpa.gr) if you believe that your rights are being infringed in any way.

8. How you can exercise your rights under 7 above.

For the exercise of these rights, as well as for any matter concerning your personal data, you may address the Bank in writing to the following address: Attica Bank, Data Protection Office, 3-5 Palaion Patron Germanou Str., Athens 105 61, or to the e-mail address: dpo@atticabank.gr.

The Bank will make every effort to respond to your request (s) within thirty (30) days of submission of the request or requests. This period may be extended for sixty (60) additional days if it is deemed necessary at the absolute discretion of the Bank, taking into account the complexity of the request and the number of requests. The Bank will, in any case, inform you of the extension of the deadline.

9. How does the Bank protect your rights?

The Bank for the security of your data has and applies procedures and systems for the confidentiality of your personal data and processing, as well as for protecting them from accidental or unlawful destruction, accidental loss, alteration, prohibited propagation or access and any other forms of unfair processing, including access controls, physical and reasonable security, data loss prevention and backup outside of the Bank.

The above notice replaces any previous notice concerning the processing of your personal data.
